Local Score Clean-Cut Victory When Hall Holds Bearcats Down to Three Hits, While Team Garner Eleven Safeties.

WARREN SCORES LONG HOME RUN

Oviedo Pounded From Hill in Eighth Replaced by Doc Goodman of Mesa, Who Is Touched for Two More Tallies.

Like a smooth bubbling stream, the Phoenix hits and runs flowed over the rather mangled Tempe team yesterday for eight innings and when the southsiders came up for their trials there were but three hits to bubble and no runs to flow. There was scarce a ripple in the current. Not an excitement marred the placidness of the clock like action until Warren stepped easily into Oviedo's swift ball and dropped it neatly across the middle sign in the left field fence. Had not Happy Clow indulged in one of his baserunning boneheads just prior, and been erased by one of Leachy's swift pegs to first, there would have been two runs. As it was, Phoenix garnered in the tallies one at a time, taking it slow until the eighth when three tabs were added to the total. Tempe never got a man as far as third. Hall held the visitors to three hits, and was lightning throughout. Oviedo yielded eleven safeties, part of them accountable for by the occasional ragged swing of his infield. Mitchell, the new batterymate was not as strong as he might have been and was responsible for a couple of tallies when he let the ball go by or heaved wild.

In the sixth, as was predicted, Hall had one of those stinky spells, and spared the three Tempe batsmen but four delivered balls. He assisted in each put out at first. Harris, the brilliant youngster gathered in the one extra ball, which was wide and then like each of the others slammed the first one into Hall's waiting mitt. Leachy was husky at times, and twice pulled his team out of holes with three on.

After having given a pass in the eighth, and allowed a two bagger which scored Hall, Oviedo retired to center field and took Harris' place, while Doc Goodman packed some new ginger into the diamond and retired the side, with three outs, however, until Phoenix had added two more tallies.

Tempe simply failed to hit safely. From the first to the last innings, they went down almost as speedily as they got up to bat, and at the very end of the game with Oviedo on by a scratch hit Ewing slugged down to McDewitt, and the game was over by virtue of the lightning like doubling of Ritchie and Togneri.

Notes on the Game.

Old Hap Clow played his wonted game in the field yesterday, and at bat secured the ball twice upon a part of his anatomy. He hit once and therefore put a 500 mark on his batting average for the game.

Scorer Blakley of Tempe was in the press box for the first time in several weeks. He returned recently from a vacation on the coast and this was the first game he has seen.

Folks who know say that Warren's homer over the left field fence was one of the longest ever hit in Phoenix. After the ball had struck the ground beyond the padding, the stands saw it bound high into the air again. Warren had taken three balls and two strikes when he lifted the pellet across the park and out of the lot.

Togneri's stick was responsible for three of the eleven hits in Phoenix's column this morning. He was out the first time and errored on the second time at bat, and then turned in and hit safely the last three.

Burg, Tempe's new shortstop showed some class in his fielding, but could cover more ground to better advantage. His mate on third, Captain Mullen, played his usual star game at that place, showing himself as familiar with the etiquette of the infield as with that of the garden's afar.

After having swung to no effect for six spaces, Big Griffen, Tempe's valuable first sacker connected with Hall's grover high and right between the lines of the plate for a pretty single. His was the first hit off Hall.

Simple Swatfests
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 14.—The Angels were humiliated twice by Venice today. The morning game went to the visitors by an 8 to 3 score, and the afternoon tally was 17 to 8. Both were featureless swatfests.

The afternoon was the most discrediting and the defeat was charged against Pitcher Ryan, who was not removed until the sixth inning. In five and one-third innings he had contributed nine hits and seven runs. Perritt fared almost as badly in the eighth when the Venice batters hammered out seven more tallies. Venice by errorless ball and consistent hitting won the morning contest by an easy margin.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14.—The San Francisco club won seven games of its series with eight with Portland when it took both of today's games. The score of the first game was 4 to 1; the second 6 to 0. West, who pitched for Portland in the morning game, was hammered consistently throughout and in the eighth innings the Seals were at bat he allowed four hits, three of these in the third inning which gave the visitors their single tally.

The Seals kept on pounding the ball in the afternoon game. They batted Higginbotham out of the box in the third inning after they had taken eight hits that yielded five runs. Krause followed Higginbotham

MACKS SLAY PORTSIDERS

Records Show Southpaws Have Little Luck Against Athletics — Rube Marquard May Prove Ineffective in Big Series

Beware, Richard Marquard. That's the signal for the Rube in the coming world's championship clashes with the Athletics. Collins, Baker & Co. have played havoc with the side-wheelers in the American league this campaign and Marquard's winning from them in the big games is none too certain.

Because Marquard is not the best southpaw in the league. Last year he looked like a wonder, because he won nineteen straight at the start of the season, but he was fawpawed with much luck.

American Southpaws Clever. The American has southpaws just as good, if not better. They are Vean Gregg of the Naps, Tex Russell of the White Sox, Earl Hamilton of the Browns and Ray Collins of the Red Sox.

Every one of these has failed against Connie Mack's charges. Russell and Hamilton, two of the best left-handers in the Ban Johnson circuit, have proven the easiest for the coming American league champions, as no one expects the Naps or any other club to beat them out of the pennant. Five contests have been won from each.

Swell Job Beating Russell. Winning five battles from Lefty Russell, the star youngster of the White Sox, is quite an achievement for any club. Russell has been beating all other teams in the league with great regularity, but he just cannot beat the White Elephants. He has faced them six times this campaign and has been returned the winner only once.

Earl Hamilton of the Browns has lost 11 games this season, and five of them have been to the leaders. Ham has failed to chalk up a win against Connie Mack's men.

During the campaign, the Mack-ers have been called upon to face a southpaw thirty-seven games and twenty-nine times have they beaten them, while only eight contests have been grabbed from the men who let fly with the left wing. That's a winning percentage of .784 against left-handers, far better than the one made against the right-handers, which is .56-37, .502.

Beware, Jawn McGraw. So, beware, Rube Marquard and Johnny Morra. If the Giants' leader hopes to down Connie Mack's charges in the world's series, he probably will have to rely on Matty. Testreau and Demaree, his right-handers. The Athletics beat Marquard in 1911, and they are apt to do it again.

Of the many southpaws in the American league, Vean Gregg of the Naps has had the leaders four times this year and has been on the long end twice, while he has been beaten a like number of occasions. Left and pitched steady ball for the remainder of the game. Standridge pitched for the Seals. He allowed eight hits.

SACRAMENTO SLUGFEST
SACRAMENTO, Sept. 14.—The Sacramento Wolves made it seven wins out of eight with the Oakland tailenders today, winning the morning game 7 to 5, and the afternoon game 9 to 3. In the morning a walk, a passed ball and a sacrifice fly gave the Wolves one run in the first inning; but Zacher's triple in the fifth was the first hit of the game. In the second half, however, the game developed into a slugfest, and the score was three times tied, each team used three pitchers.

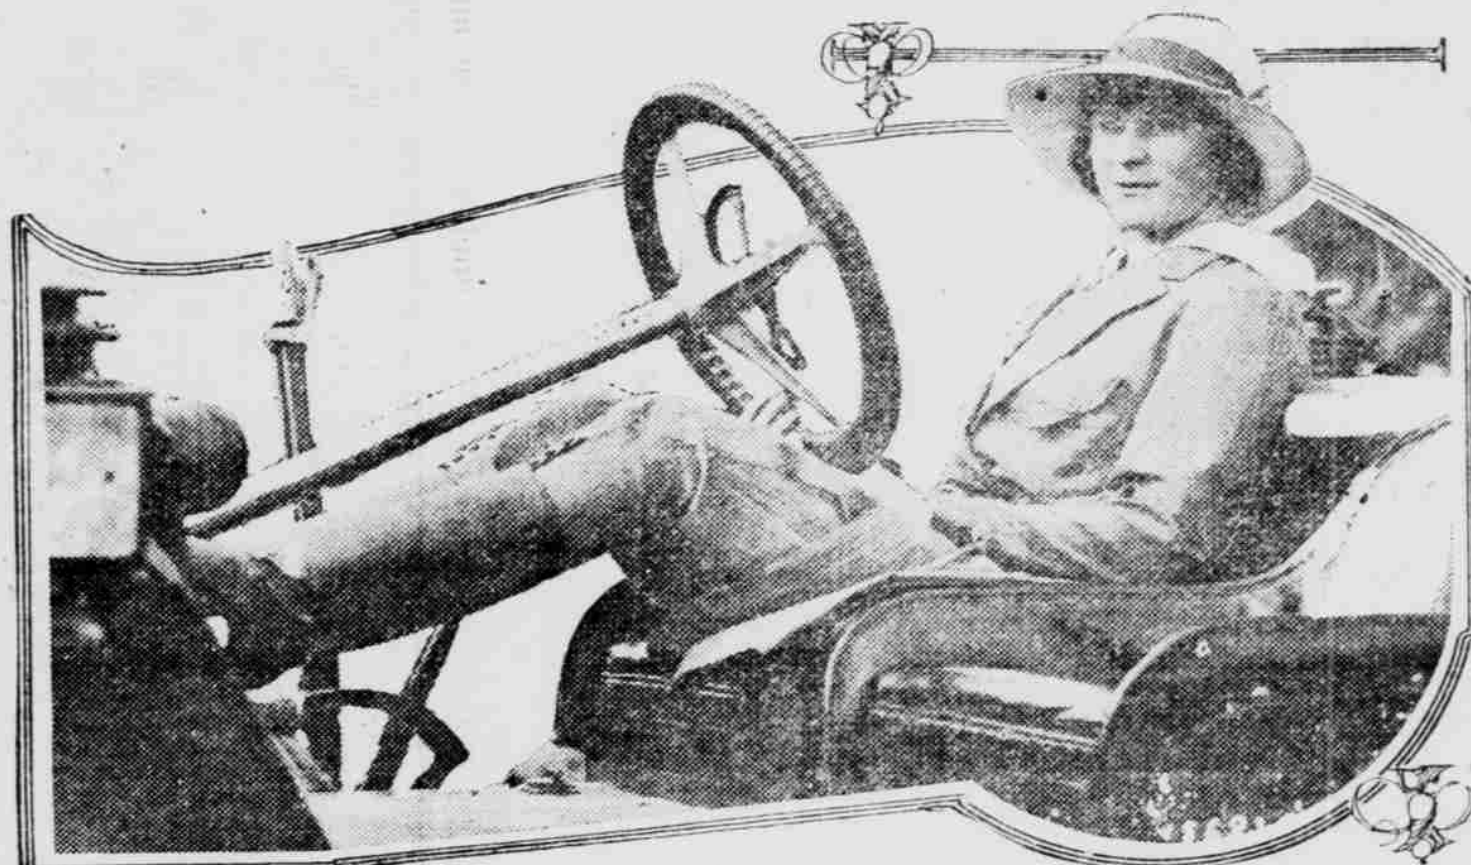

In the afternoon game each team used two pitchers, making ten pitchers used in the doubleheader. Jost was hit hard from the start when Hallinan put the ball out of the lot with a man on base in the third and Ables was sent to the mound. The big southpaw was found for three runs in the second half of the game. Lively was replaced by Munsell in the fifth after a double, a single and a triple had boosted Oakland's score to three runs. Munsell allowed only two hits in the rest of the game and the Oaks did not score again.
